Sommerakademie
Internal Necessity
4.8. — 13.8.09
curated by Tirdad Zolghadr
Zentrum Paul Klee, Bern

During the Sommerakademie, Tirdad Zolghadr and invited speakers will discuss various philosophical, ideological, historical and practical dimensions of art with twelve international artists and curators. The aim is to analyse with mutual benefit the conditions surrounding the production of art on the one hand, and the requirements and necessities of art on the other. Workshops for the invited Fellows will take place in an environment conceived by Ethan Breckenridge in the Forum of the Zentrum Paul Klee. This space will encourage participants to consider further the possibilities of an experimental academy. Breckenridge will also place a satellite installation in the Loge of the PROGR.

The Sommerakademie is an international platform for contemporary art with theme-specific seminars, which takes place every August. It promotes artistic production and reflection, as well as increased interaction between artists and curators, inviting them for a ten-day programme in Berne to work and network with renowned personalities from the art world.
